

Put Your Science to Work

Workshop presented by Peter Fiske, Ph.D.

Peter S. Fiske, Ph.D., is author of "To Boldly Go: A Practical Career Guide for Scientists" and its second edition: "Put Your Science to Work: A Take-Charge Career Guide for Scientists." He was the co-author of the biweekly column Tooling Up on AAAS's Career website, NextWave, and is presently writing a monthly column on career development and entrepreneurship on ScienceCareers.org. He has been featured on NPR's Talk of the Nation - Science Friday.

Fiske received his Ph.D. in Geological and Environmental Sciences 1994 from Stanford University and an MBA from U.C. Berkeley in 2002. Fiske is the author of 22 technical articles, a former member of the technical staff of Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory, and currently Chief Executive Officer of PAX Mixer Inc. in San Rafael, CA.

This workshop presents a thorough and practical overview to the process of career planning and job hunting in today's job market, from the perspective of a young scientist.

Learn about specific steps that you can take to broaden your horizons, strengthen your skills, and present your best face to potential employers. The workshop also covers all the specifics of job hunting, including informational interviewing, building your network, developing a compelling CV and resume, cover letters, interviewing, and more.
